COAL STRIKE.

PREMIER'S MESSAGE TO THE NATION.

ISSUE NOT IN DOUBT.

SUFFICIENT SUPPLIES OF COAL FOR PUBLIC SERVICES.

LONDON, October 16.

Mr. Lloyd George has addressed a message to the Nation setting forth the Government's position regarding the strike. The message reads: The Nation is confronted by a coal strike. The Government made every effort consistent with their duty as trustees for the people to avert this calamity. The proposals of the Government were supported by many of the most responsible leaders of the Miners' Federation and were regarded by all sections of the people as fair and reasonable. The Government offered to submit the miners' claim for an increase in wages to an impartial tribunal and to abide by the result. This offer the miners refused. The Government offered to give the increase asked for if the miners would restore the present low production of coal to the figures of the early part of the present year. This, too, the miners refused against the advice of some of their most experienced leaders. They are attempting now to gain their ends by force. The Nation must and will resist such an attack with all its strength and there can be no doubt as to the issue.

NO CESSATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

The Premier emphasises that the supplies of coal for public services are sufficient and there should be no cessation of employment until it cannot longer be avoided. He urges the people to remain calm and deal with emergencies as they arise. "No one need underestimate the damage the strike will do," he adds, "but no one need be dismayed. We have been through much more difficult times. With a steady purpose and determination to do justice the Nation will overcome all its difficulties."

MINERS' STATEMENT.

LONDON, October 16.

Simultaneously with Mr. Lloyd George, the Miners' Federation have made a statement declaring that the miners were forced into the strike because of the consistently unyielding attitude of the Government in the face of reasonable claims which left them without an honourable alternative. The Federation emphasises that they allowed ample time for negotiations and modified their claims in the interests of peace, twice agreeing to a suspension of the strike notices. The statement contends that the Federation's record throughout has been one of studious moderation and anxiety to take any possible step in order to avoid stoppage, and explains that the refusal to refer the wage questions to a tribunal was due to the treatment meted out by the Government in connection with the Sankey Commission. The Federation accuses the Government of declining to give effect to the recommendations of the majority of the Commission after pledging itself to do so in order to avert a crisis.

WHAT MR. CLYNES SUGGESTS.

LONDON, October 16.

"Mr. Clynès, interviewed, suggested that the Government and miners compromise regarding the wage question, declaring that the country and the workers were never in a less fit condition for a prolonged industrial struggle. Mr. Clynès's idea is for the miners to get an extra shilling immediately, leaving the other shilling for the consideration of the tribunal which both sides are agreed is necessary."

ATTITUDE OF THE RAILWAYMEN.

LONDON, October 16.

The Executive of the National Union of Railwaymen met this morning and subsequently issued a statement announcing that a special conference of railway delegates would be held on October 20 to consider the coal crisis. "The Executive has given instructions to branches pointing out what a serious position will occur if the miners were to be defeated and will bear this in mind in the coming decision, and will be prepared to act at once under to the instructions they may receive as a result of the delegate meeting."

A SIGNIFICANT SPEECH.

LONDON, October 16.

The railway leader, Mr. Thomas, who has returned from Prague, this afternoon made a most significant speech at Crickwood, when he pointed out that the miners' strike occurred at a time when the financial, economic and social position of the country were never worse. He emphasised that people who assumed that the credit of Britain was of no importance to the workers did not know that no nation was so dependent on credit as Britain, and no section of the people would suffer more from an absence of credit than the workers. He expressed thankfulness that the door was still left open by Mr. Lloyd George. He declared that it was the duty of all trades unionists to strive for a peaceful settlement.

URGENT GERMAN REQUEST.

LONDON, October 16.

Coincident with the outbreak of the strike in Britain, a Berlin message reports the publication of an appeal, apparently addressed to the German Government by three German magnates, including Herr Siemens, announcing the closing down of a number of blast furnaces and urgently requesting the Government "in view of the superabundance of coal and coke in France" to take steps to retain sufficient coal and coke in Germany to prevent a collapse of industry.

FRENCH OIL SUPPLIES.

SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION IN PRICES ANTICIPATED.

LONDON, October 15.

A Havre message states that according to the newspapers, the French administration is evolving a vast programme for increasing France being abundantly supplied with petroleum and for developing national petroleum production. "Le Matin," in announcing the arrival in Paris of the president of a leading American petroleum trust, states that the company intends to organize sales in France on a large scale, the immediate consequence of which, in the paper's opinion, will be a substantial reduction in oil prices which are now almost prohibitive.

MINERS' DECISION.

LONDON, October 15th.
The Miners' Conference has decided, in view of the unsatisfactory reply of the Government, that the districts be telegraphically informed that the only course is to cease work on October 16th.
The first official measure in connection with the coal war has been taken by the Secretary for Mines who has issued a declaration saying that a State emergency exists from one o'clock in the morning of October 16th and numerous restrictions in the use of coal have been laid down, including a prohibition of the display of lighting outside premises and limiting the supply of coal to a cwt. per household, weekly.

LATER.
The Prince of Wales' visit to the City on October 27th has been postponed owing to the coal strike.

LATER.
The Food Ministry states that if the strike is confined to the miners, the country's food supplies will be fully looked after, but if it extends to other industries, new plans will be drawn up. Road transport cannot at present replace railways, but the public may rest assured that adequate supplies will be maintained throughout the country. It may be necessary to reintroduce rationing. Anyhow, the sugar ration will be halved as soon as the strike begins.

LONDON, October 15th.
The decision of the Miners' Conference has created a very grave situation, although mediation proposals by other Trade Union leaders, who are anxious that there should be no strike, are still regarded as probable.

It is already announced that the export of Welsh coal has been officially prohibited. It is specifically stated that the stocks of coal will suffice for three months, but rigid economy is essential. An important question relates to the attitude of railwaymen. It is stated that the possibility of the strike spreading simultaneously with the miners is a very grave concern in Government circles.

The Ministry of Transport announces that, in the event of a coal-strike, after an interval of two to three days, in order to allow people absent from home to reach their homes, passenger services will be reduced by 10 to 20 per cent.
Suburban services, workmen's trains and the traffic dealing with perishable food-stuffs and petrol will not be interfered with, but all other traffic will automatically be reduced as the shortage of coal is felt.

LATER.
It is officially announced that the export of coal is prohibited.

LONDON, October 15th.
The decision that the miners' strike notices should expire on the 16th inst. was the outcome of the recommendation of the Executive. It was adopted by the Delegates Conference by 151 votes to 27 votes.

NEW REPUBLIC.

LONDON, October 15th.
A message from Grodno says that General Zeligowski has proclaimed an independent republic of Central Lithuania, and announced that the Diet will be convened at Vilna as the earliest possible moment. The National Government constituted is composed of two each Poles and White Lithuanians. The Lithuanians are headed by M. Abramowicz, editor of a local paper.
Zeligowski has sent Poland a Note demanding the river Nemunas to be a frontier between Poland and Central Lithuania, leaving Grodno in Central Lithuania. He has also sent Lithuania a Note saying that he does not desire hostilities and that the question of frontier will be settled by a plebiscite.

PARIS, October 15th.
M. Leon Bourgeois, President of the Council of the League of Nations, has informed M. Paderevski that the occupation of Vilna has violated Poland's undertakings towards the League of Nations, and, if Vilna is not evacuated shortly, the Council of the League will be obliged to meet urgently to examine the situation which is regarded as most serious.

DAYLIGHT DUBLIN DUEL.

LONDON, October 15th.
A sensational affray took place in Dublin this afternoon when an armoured car was attacked by armed men who fired through the aperture, wounding one soldier. The troops replied with a machine gun, killing one civilian. Subsequently while troops were raiding a shop in Talbot-street, civilians opened fire and killed one officer and wounded two soldiers. The latter returned fire and killed two civilians and wounded four.

Dublin is seething with excitement this evening. Troops are confined to barracks. A Dublin Castle communiqué announces that Mr. Moore, Resident Magistrate, and Mr. Hyde, a Justice of the Peace, who motored from Mullingar to West Meath, yesterday morning, to attend Castle Pollard Petty Sessions, have not heard of since. A search is being made for them.

LATER.
It has now been discovered that Mr. Moore and Mr. Hyde, the two missing Irish magistrates, were held up by masked and armed men at revolver-point, handcuffed and blindfolded, and then conducted to an unknown destination. The search so far has been fruitless.

LONDON, October 15th.
The Lord Mayor of Cork has now "fasted" sixty-four days. It transpires that he sent a farewell message to his fellow Councillors on the sixty-first day.

SHIPPING OUTLOOK.

"RATHER GLOOMY."

FIERCE COMPETITION ABROAD.

Everyone is more or less directly concerned with the future of the British Mercantile Marine. We are dependent upon the sea as no nation

before was dependent, and it is consequently a matter of concern to everyone that we should possess a large and prosperous mercantile marine. The outlook in this respect is rather gloomy, for while the cost of operating ships has advanced by 350 per cent., freights generally during the past three or four months have fallen by about one-third, and still show a downward tendency. The meaning of this movement is not far to seek. It was assumed that, with the coming of peace, the workers of this and other countries would devote themselves to making good the destruction wrought by the war, realising

that it offered them an opportunity of benefiting themselves as well as humanity generally. Production, however, has proceeded only slowly.

It is estimated that the output of each individual worker in this country is only about 70 per cent. of what it was seven years ago, and these have been a falling off practically everywhere except Belgium. The Belgians have learnt, after their terrible ordeal, the folly of "cat's paw" methods.

The result of this widespread movement towards a lower standard of working efficiency is that there is already a surplus of shipping, because there are not the goods to carry.

Eight million five hundred thousand more tons of shipping are about now than on the eve of the war, and within twelve months another 7,000,000 tons will be completed. In these circumstances it needs no expert knowledge to understand that the outlook for shipping is overcast. Another aspect of the shipping problem was touched upon a few days ago by Mr. Robert Mason, M.P., in a speech at Newcastle-on-Tyne. He pointed out that in some instances as much as 75 per cent. of the freights earned were absorbed in the charges for discharging. "On one day recently fifty-four men were employed in discharging at Newcastle quay, and thirty-four of them earned 25/- 18s.

2d. each, for 12½ hours' work, of which two hours was overtime; the other twenty-two men worked 17½ hours

also, including two hours overtime, and received 26/- 11s. 6d. each.

Those facts illustrate a sure way of driving trade away from this country and crippling the shipping industry.

Fortunately, the leaders of industry are strong in experience and knowledge, and, with faith in their star,

are exhibiting a fine courage in face of difficulties at home and increasingly fierce, and in some cases unfair, competition abroad.

We referred the other day to the cumulative effects of high wages on shipbuilding and ship operating, says

the Daily Telegraph. It is stated that "forward orders" for a hundred vessels have in consequence been cancelled recently. Sir Frederick

Lewis, in the speech which he delivered towards the close of last week, illustrated the manner in which unreasonable labour demands are acting in restraint of development.

"One of our associated companies

some time ago contracted," he explained, "for two specialised vessels for a particular trade. In reply to recent inquiries as to the probable cost, it became apparent that this was going to be fully double the amount that was estimated when the contracts were placed, and, in fact,

three times as great as the value received from the Government (under the State Insurance scheme) for the steamers lost during the war which these vessels were intended to replace. At such a figure the venture was rendered commercially impossible, and, as the keels were not laid,

there was no practical alternative but to abandon the building of the boats."

That decision is injurious to the interest of employees in shipyards and marine engine shops as well as to those of the seamen. That incident is merely one of many which show that labour charges are now hampering the expansion not only of industry generally, but of shipping, which is the most important of all our industries. As Sir Frederick Lewis has remarked, "The abnormal uses of shipping—that is, its uses connected directly or indirectly with the war or its aftermath—have now practically ceased, and consequently the natural law of supply and demand is once again coming into play." It is essential to widespread employment in this country that we should cease to endeavour to evade the inevitable.

The idea fostered by some Labour leaders that there is an inexhaustible

coffer from which uneconomic wages can be paid, must imperil our every interest. The working man lives from day to day, or at best from week to week, but the employer, responsible for keeping his works going, or his ships in service, as the case may be,

has to look months ahead. Under present conditions of labour unrest

he is handicapped, because he is unable to make firm contracts in whatever direction he looks, he is confronted by uncertain conditions due to unreasonable demands for more

ADJUSTMENT OR ARBITRATION.

It is on record at the British Consulate at Shanghai that an agreement was arrived at in 1916 between shipowners and the Maritime Guilds, to refer matters in dispute (the reference coming from either side) to a Board of Adjustment, composed of one member of each fleet concerned or a permanent representative, one representative of each company concerned, the Secretary of the Guild and the British Shipping Vice-consul, as Chairman.

In case the Adjustment Board fails to adjust the question, the matter to go before an Arbitration Board composed of one arbitrator appointed by each side and a third by these two.

It was settled that the finding of the Adjustment Board should be binding only if it were unanimous. The finding, however, of the Arbitration Board was to be binding on both parties.

So far so good. But both Jardine's and B. & S. have intimated that they have made many concessions as they intended to. Thus far and no farther is their message. And they both refuse to "call into being" that Board of Adjustment.

First of all, is it in being? Presumably they answer that it is not, since they say they will not call it into being. Presumably they think that when the other details of the 1916 agreement lapsed, the Board of Adjustment lapsed with them.

If so, we cannot agree! The King never dies. Amurath to Amurath succeeds. The principle of arbitration is a king principle. It is a part of the Constitution, so to speak, by which the owners recognized (and still pretend to recognize) the Guilds. We take it that it is a precedent. When one set of grievances have been submitted to arbitration for an adjustment (and settled), it follows that other sets can and should be so submitted—not necessarily to the king who died, but to the permanent Throne. Otherwise we have, to continue the analogy, a reversion to anarchy, or (let us be fashionable) to Bolshevism. Industrial disputes are inevitable. Strikes are wasteful and unpunishable. Let us stand by the excellent principle of arbitration.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized or too often repeated that in this case it is the employers who have refused and are refusing arbitration. The public must make its judgment on that.

In connection with the attitude of the local employers, an amusing sidelight has been thrown on the attitude of the ship owners at Home, who are fighting demands that roughly involve a fifty per cent. increase all round. The ship owners decided that "those obliged to lay up their vessels ought to be indemnified—say at Blue Book rates—against loss." Almost anybody would fight on such terms, and if the Guilds can somehow manage to indemnify their members—"at Blue Book rates"—against loss, they will have a united following. But that's a Pipe Dream.

COAL STRIKE.

The coal crisis at Home presents what journalists are fond of calling a Gilbertian situation. It might be expected to happen in Topsyturvyland, or in Samuel Butler's "Freewheel," but not in the Dis-united Kingdom. Perhaps it is one of those things that, as Lord Dunsyre said in the play, no fellow can ever understand. It is certainly no joke, and we shall not regard as insane all those who may disagree with it; but does it not appear that the governing class is straining at the gnat of a nation while swallowing the camel of a fact? It seems to be admitted that the strike is largely political, largely a device to force nationalization of the coal mines on the politicians who have repudiated it. Yet according to the monthly review of Barclay's Bank, dated September, the Chancellor of the Exchequer has written to a correspondent stating that whatever sums are realized by the Government as profits on the coal industry will be used in the reduction of the National Debt. Does that not indicate nationalization in fact, although not in name? The excess profits tax is essentially nationalization, but this allocation of coal profits, coupled with the "control" the Government has, is nationalization naked and not unashamed. The shame is for the name, not for the thing. The word "nationalization" has the word "Bolshevism" and formerly the word "Socialism" is the thing bogged at. So long as the extra commandment, not to be found out, is observed, they seem to think the others do not matter; and to admit the right name of the thing they are doing would be to be found out. If there is anything in this argument of ours—and if there isn't, and we find it out, we shall feel foolish—it is quite obviously cuts both ways. The miners, so far as their strike is political, are striking for something they already enjoy. They are insisting on the principle of the name, just as the gang is accepting everything but the name. That is why we have called the situation Gilbertian or Erewhonian. To force such a trifling issue at such a tremendous cost means that our body politic has the vapours badly, that it needs a thorough spring cleaning. Whence shall come the charge of moral corollary to blow away all these fogs of foolish cantankerousness, and restore the mental balance of this people?

FORGED NOTES.

ARREST IN HONGKONG.

DOUBTFUL STRAITS NOTES.

At the Magistrate's on Sunday, a Chinese was charged before Magistrate Smith, with the unlawful possession of a forged one pound note. In pleading "not guilty," the defendant alleged that the note was thrust into his hand by the constable who arrested him.

Sub-Inspector Murphy, who prosecuted said that the defendant was arrested in Hollowood Road, near the T-mole, as the result of information received. When the defendant was brought before him (the Inspector) he made no allegation against the constable who arrested him.

An official of the French Bank testified that the note was forged. Inspector Murphy told the Magistrate that several Straits bank notes found on the defendant also appeared to be forged, but the police could not procure expert evidence. The hearing of the case was adjourned until Wednesday.

MORE FIVE-ROOM FLATS.

GERMAN CLUB REMAINS
AS SCHOOL.

Following an editorial note in Thursday's China Mail, headed "Educational Matters," a China Mail reporter has made enquiries, and learns that the Christian Brothers who have purchased the German Club, are now building an extension on the tennis court to accommodate additional class rooms, and have no intention of vacating the building. The old St. Joseph's College building, situated above the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, which has been pulled down, is the property of the Italian Mission and Bishop Pozzoni is building on the site a big block of five-roomed flats. The building is expected to be completed about the beginning of March of next year. The housing problem is so acute here at present, that all the flats, at $100 per month each, have been booked months ago. In fact, they were booked as soon as the project was made known.

ST. MARGARET MARY.

YESTERDAY'S CELEBRATION.

BRILLIANT CATHOLIC PROCESSION.

Yesterday the feast of the Canonization of the Blessed Margaret Mary of Alacoque was celebrated by Roman Catholics all over the world. The Hongkong celebrations were on a big scale. At 8 a.m., the Pontifical High Mass was said in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, and the church was packed with the faithful of every nationality. The Kyrie and the Gloria from Milner's "Missa St. Nomine Jesu," and the Credo from Puccini's "Missa Pontificale," were beautifully sung. The music of the Sanctus and the Agnus Dei specially composed for the occasion by the Rev. Fr. Rignani, was rendered on the organ by the composer himself.

In the afternoon, a procession was held which the whole of the Catholic community, numbering well over ten thousand, participated, including His Lordship Bishop Pozzoni, the Fathers of the Italian, Spanish and French Missions, the Sisters and girls of the French and Italian Convents, the Brothers and Boys of St. Joseph's College, the boys of St. Lewis Industrial School, and the members of the various Catholic societies. The procession left the Cathedral soon after 4.30, and proceeded along Cause Road, up Peel Street, through Mosque Street and Robinson Road, and then down Albany Road and back to the Cathedral. All the Catholic houses along the route were beautifully decorated with flags and flowers, and incense was burned outside the doors. The procession was a brilliant one, the grandest in the history of the Colony, and the attendance was so great that the two ends of the two-mile procession almost met.

After the procession, a sermon was preached by a Father of the American Catholic Mission to China, The Rev. Fr. de la Cruz, who then sang by the whole congregation. The Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament brought the ceremonies to a close well after 7 p.m. A reception was then held in the Mission House, where eloquent speeches were made in English and Portuguese. At night many of the Catholic houses held dances in celebration of the event.

A Catholic friend kindly supplies the following account of yesterday's celebrations:—Yesterday's Catholic Procession in honour of the canonization of St. Margaret Mary Alacoque will long be remembered, not only by Catholics, but by all who witnessed it, as certainly the most beautiful and impressive procession ever seen in Hongkong.

Exactly at 4.30 p.m., the first units of the procession left the Cathedral. The route was along Cause Road to the foot of Peel Street, up Peel Street and Mosque Street to Robinson Road, along Robinson Road to the Albany Road, and back to the Cathedral. The procession, which was a very long one, took an hour and a quarter to cover this route.

The streets were very effectively decorated, there being ten large arches on the route. The arch near the Mission House on Cause Road carried a very large and beautiful picture of the apparition of Our Lord to Sister Margaret Mary. The walls on both sides of the entrance to the Italian Convent were simply covered by flowers. The decorations on Peel Street and Mosque Street were very pretty, and the manifestations of devotion shown as the Blessed Sacrament passed the various houses were very touching.

The banner of the day, that of St. Margaret Mary, which headed the Procession, was carried by M. Boisson de Chazournes, a delicate compliment to the country which is today so proud of the two saints who have this year been added to the Church's Calendar, St. Joan of Arc and St. Margaret Mary Alacoque. After this banner followed the boys of St. Lewis Industrial School in their uniforms, the Chinese Confraternity of St. Joseph, the Chinese girls of the Italian Convent, the Apostleship of Prayer, the Chinese girls of the French Convent, the European girls of the French and Italian Convents, the Confraternity of the Guardian Angels, the Confraternity of the Children of Mary, the members of which carried large bouquets of flowers and looked very pretty in their white veils.

Then came the European Lady Members of the Apostleship of Prayer, the Members of the Staff and Students of St. Joseph's College, the Members of the Apostleship of Prayer, the twelve banners of the Promises of Our Lord, the Confraternity of the Holy Rosary, the fifteen banners of the Mysteries of the Holy Rosary, the Confraternity of "Nossa Senhora das Passões," and the Confraternity of the Most Blessed Sacrament. After this came the Seminarians and Clergy followed by flower-boys scattering flowers before the Blessed Sacrament, which was carried by His Lordship

INTERPORT CRICKET.

SATURDAY'S PRACTICE MATCH.

COMMENT ON THE GAME.

BY "THROWN OUT."

On Saturday we had a convincing batting display by some of the probabilities against bowling that could only be said to be fair. Still I am satisfied that Turner and Pearce are as good as ever, and that although Sayer was out for the meagre score of 6, he is a batter of the very first class. Major Edwards showed that his previous form both with bat and ball was not his real form, and he is almost certain now to go into the team, to the exclusion perhaps of Capt. Oliver. The last named player, though he shapes well, has done nothing with the bat so far, and on the three occasions that I have seen him perform he has been out to a really bad stroke each time. I also liked Major Edwards' bowling on Saturday, and feel sure that he will prove a useful man in this direction if he is chosen. I would like to have seen Bagnall and Wodehouse bat. The former is a desirable asset to any side as a forceful bat and a splendid field, but I should feel more convinced of his worth if I saw him knocking up a score in his old time style. Wodehouse bowled well and is worth his place as a bowler alone. Franks was again in the best of form behind the sticks, and quite as good a wicket keeper as Claxton. The manner in which he stumped de Rome off a fast ball from Davies was really excellent and brought him rounds of well deserved applause. The wicket was not nearly as hard as it looked and it did not suit either Davies or Bird. Both bowled well, however, and were always treated with great respect, and Bird looked as if he might have got Gray out several times before he clean bowled him with a beautiful ball that came in from leg and beat the batsman all the way.

On the other side, de Rome again batted very well, and Whitehead for the first time this year hit out in a way that I did not expect. A new bowler was seen in Alexander, who looked to be a bit out of practice, and I should like to see him perform again after he has had a week at the nets. He has a style that should be very puzzling to batsmen, a high action, left-handed and medium pace. He looks as if he might be able to make the ball swerve, and he comes off the ground faster than one expects. Next week we are to have the probable interport bowlers against the probable batters and I should like to see Alexander given a good opportunity to show what he can do. I also think Farthing worth another trial, as if Bird does not choose to play we must have two more bowlers.

In connection with the other matches played in the Colony on Saturday, there was no performance of special merit. Some of the Chinese players made big scores, but from the composition of the University side I should have been surprised if they had not. The I.R.C. seem to have got together a good side, and to have discovered a new bowler in Weerapull, while Kowloon seem this year to be a very poor lot in both departments, unless Stalker and Braga do wonders to strengthen the side.

One case of paratyphoid fever and one case of puerperal fever, both Chinese, were reported on Saturday.

The Bishop under a beautiful silk and gold canopy borne by six Promoters of the Apostleship of Prayer. The canopy was flanked on both sides by a strong Naval and Military Guard of honour. Behind the Canopy were the Papal Knights the representatives of the consular body, and the Members of the Working Committee. Then came the Band of the Sociedade Philharmonica, followed by a naval and military detachment.

Some of the numerous banners were very striking, especially that of the French Convent, which was a beautiful silk tricolour on the centre of which was a large picture of the Sacred Heart of Jesus surmounted by the words "The Sacred Heart of Jesus saved France." The traffic arrangements under Inspector Garrod were excellent, and the fact that the Procession was able to maintain such perfect order throughout the whole route, in spite of the thousands who lined the streets, was due entirely to the work of Inspector Garrod and the many police under his direction.

The Procession was followed by a sermon in the Cathedral by Rev. Fr. O'Shea of the American Catholic Mission in Kwangtung. After the sermon His Lordship the Bishop, assisted by numerous clergy, celebrated Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament during which the Te Deum was sung.

The following were the members of the Working Committee:—Mr. V. F. Soares (Chairman), Mr. W. G. Fitzgibbon (Secretary), Mr. H. Dixon (Treasurer), Mr. J. M. Grace (Master of Ceremonies), Mr. F. Fisher, Mr. J. D. Osmund Rev. Fr. Rignani, Mr. Simon Teo Yan, and Miss M. Laureano.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

ALLEGED CORROSIVE FLUID THROWING.

PRESIDENT BANISHED.

The October Criminal Sessions opened this morning at the Supreme Court, the cases being heard by the Chief Justice Mr. Justice Gompertz, and the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice Wood. The calendar includes indictments for murder and manslaughter.

Before the Chief Justice, Leung Mun was charged with throwing corrosive fluid.

He pleaded not guilty. The Attorney General, Hon. Mr. H. Kemp, prosecuted and Mr. F. C. Jenkin, instructed by Mr. Leo d'Almada was for the defence.

The following jury was called: Messrs. A. MacKenzie, G. H. da Silva, G. M. Shaw, P. M. Remedios, J. P. Sherry, W. Pittendigh, A. W. Roberts.

Opening the case the Attorney General said the male complainant was a hawker of Wanchai and the prisoner was apparently employed by the Electric Company. The assault took place at 7 p.m. on Sept. 7. The man and woman, the other complainant, were at the stall and the evidence was that the prisoner came up and threw the acid first over the man and then the woman, causing severe burns. Vitriol throwing was a serious crime, generally a deliberate one, and a very drastic form of assault. There was generally some reason for it but he (the Attorney General) did not pretend to be able to tell the jury the motive in this case, but he thought after the jury had heard the evidence they would be satisfied that prisoner was the man who threw the corrosive fluid. The assault took place at 7 p.m. and prisoner was arrested an hour later. When charged prisoner said he was falsely accused as he had refused a loan to the complainant. The Attorney General commented that he thought it unlikely that these people would make a false charge when they were still smarting from the acid.

Mr. E. R. Dorey, Government Analyst, gave evidence and replying to the Lordship, who asked how a coolie could get the stuff, said it was used by the Electric Company for charging batteries.

His Lordship: It would be possible for some one to secret some of it?

Witness: Yes, I think so.

Is it sold in Chinese shops?—Yes.

Freely?—Yes.

Assuming that prisoner had gone to a shop and asked for it could he have got it?—Yes.

Is it used by the Chinese in any of the arts?—Yes, quite freely, particularly in metal work.

It would not be possible to restrict it?—I don't think so.

After further evidence had been called prisoner was found not guilty and was discharged.

A BANISHED.

The Puisne Judge, passed sentence of three years' hard labour on Li On who pleaded guilty to returning from banishment.

Mr. P. Jacks, Crown Solicitor, said that prisoner was arrested in Des Voeux Road West on September 21 after having been banished for life on October 6, 1916.

The Judge said that prisoner was sentenced in 1910 to six weeks for theft and was banished for five years. He returned the following year, being sentenced to six months and again banished for five years. He again returned in 1912 when he was again sentenced to six months and banished for life.

WOUNDING.

Ho Kai pleaded not guilty before the Puisne Judge to counts of assault with intent to rob and wounding.

The following jury was called. Messrs. J. W. Harris, F. F. Barretto, K. F. June, W. A. Webb, J. M. Vieira, J. A. Senha and G. Lee.

The Crown Solicitor said that on September 3 the complainant, who was an assistant in a money changer's shop, went to another shop to change $400 in notes into subsidiary coins. The silver was put in a cloth and slung over his shoulder. When near the Central Market he was stabbed in the back and on turning round saw prisoner holding a knife. He called for help and prisoner ran away but was arrested. At the Police Court he reserved his defence.

Prisoner was found guilty and was sentenced to five years' hard labour.

MANSLAUGHTER.

The Puisne Judge sentenced Mak Tak to six months' imprisonment for manslaughter.

Our mislaid mails should be here to-morrow morning by the s.s. "Teucer," due to arrive at 10 a.m.

H.M.S. "Sandpiper" was sold by Messrs. Hughes and H. Hugh at the Naval Chamber to-day for $13,000 to the Tung Hong S.S. Company.

Invitations have been issued by the Head Master of Queen's College for the 3rd Annual Professors' Dinner which is to be held on the evening of Tuesday, October 19th, at Budree Villa, North Point, the residence of the Headmaster.

INTERPORT CRICKET.

SATURDAY'S PRACTICE MATCH.

There was a good gathering on the Hongkong C.C. ground on Saturday afternoon to watch the interport practice match between the "Probables," captained by R. Hancock, and the "Next Fifteen" captained by A. E. Wood.

The match proved to be more encouraging than those held previously. The Probables won in very convincing style, demonstrating their worth in every department of the game. Wood's team batted first, and had a difficult job getting runs, the Probables' bowlers sending down very hot stuff. Gray and de Rome opened the innings promisingly, but the partnership was broken at 37. After this performance, the runs began to come very slowly. Captain Oliver (12) and Wittchell (23) not out with the first pair, being the only ones who reached double figures before being disposed of. The innings closed with 119 runs for 9 wickets. Much the disappointment of the spectators. Bird and Davies did not do as well as was their wont in the bowling department, and it was left to Woodhouse and Edwards to do most of the damage, which they did in very convincing style. Franks showed up well behind the sticks. When the Probables batted, they had a comparatively easy time. The bowling against them was ineffective, and they did what they liked with the deliveries. Pearce and Turner played at their top form, and gave very good accounts of themselves, while Edwards amply justified his selection. Hancock very badly luck. The "Probables" innings closed with 158 runs for 4 wickets.

WUCHOW TRADE RESUMES.

"TAI MING'S" INTERESTING TRIP.

ESCORTED BY GUNBOATS.

Endeavours are now being made to resume trade between Hongkong and Wuchow, which has had to be suspended on account of the troubles in Canton. The "Taiming" left here on Thursday last, being the first boat to resume running, arriving safely back with 100 head of cattle, after an interesting trip.

On arrival at Samshui she found the British gunboats "Moth" and "Cicala," one of them with the Consul aboard, and the "Taiming" was immediately put under Consular instructions, receiving orders to proceed direct to Wuchow. She left Samshui escorted by the two gunboats. She was ordered to pass close in to Kwong Li, the place where H.M.S. "Robin" was fired on and replied so effectively, and every thing was ready to give the attackers a severe lesson should there be a repetition of the shooting. However the boats were not molested in any way.

The "Moth" then returned, the "Cicala" acting as escort up to Wuchow, where the cattle were taken aboard. It is interesting to observe that the foreign residents of Wuchow get their meat from Hongkong's cattle supply. Of necessity the stoppage of the river trade has meant the curtailing of the supply of luxuries but there does not appear to have been any actual hardship. The "Taiming" was escorted back by the "Cicala" and had to undergo an examination at Kwong Li, apparently in face of protests by the Consul.

Measures are being taken to protect the trade and it is said that vessels under Chinese registration will be given the protection of the British flag.

According to reports the Pentecostal mission on the North River has been burnt down and several native Christians have been shot.

TYPHOON WARNING.

The telegram quoted below was received by the American Consulate General from the Manila Observatory at 9 a.m. to-day.

Typhoon in about 127 deg. long E. 17 deg. lat N recurring northeastward.

A Glasgow man on holiday from Hongkong tells me (writes a Glasgow Record man) that the British colony there have a particular as well as a general reason for wishing to see complete peace restored to Russia. The special reason is that when there is a return to normal the Trans-Siberian Railway will resume running. With the Channel Tunnel in existence, my friend points out there will be a direct run to Britain, and he pictures the day—not far off he hopes—when Chinese coolies will be heard on the platforms at Kowloon shouting "Fruit coaches for Liverpool Street. Coaches in the middle of the train for Tottenham Corner. Bean-coaches for Paisley—change at Irlbank!"

Fall From Second Floor.—A Chinese woman, aged about 30 years, living at No. 14 B-edges Street, was yesterday removed to the Government Civil Hospital, suffering from injuries caused through a fall from the second floor of the house. Her condition is serious.

Insane War Refugee.—An unknown Chinese woman who was yesterday found wandering about the streets by the police, was sent to the Government Civil Hospital for observation. She is believed to be an insane refugee from the war stricken areas of China. She was unable to give any account of herself.

Voluble Lunatic.—Another insane person, a male Chinese, was taken into custody by the police this morning. He created quite a scene in the charge room belonging to the Inspector on duty and making speeches. The man had to be removed to the hospital strapped down on an ambulance.

Hidden in A Gramophone.—A Chinese who recently arrived from the United States, was this morning charged before Magistrate Smith with the unlawful possession of two revolvers which were found concealed in a gramophone. Mr. M. K. Lo, who appeared for the defence, admitted possession, and told the Magistrate that his client was an American citizen who had lived the best part of his life in the States. His relatives had complained to him that robbers infested the village. Accordingly he brought the revolvers with him from America to give to his relatives to use against outlaws. One point in his favour was that he had no ammunition for the revolvers. The Magistrate imposed a fine of $50 and ordered the confiscation of the revolvers.

FOOTBALL.

SATURDAY'S PRACTICE MATCHES.

INTERESTING GAMES.

Four friendly matches were played at Happy Valley on Saturday afternoon, that between the Club and the "Ambrose" which, after a very hard struggle, resulted in the sailors beating the Clubmen by two goals to nil being especially enjoyed. The other matches were: Wilts. 2nd XI versus Club 2nd XI, "Carlisle" 2nd XI versus Kowloon Reserves, and "Carlisle" versus Kowloon.

The Wilts played the Club second string on the Club ground. The soldiers were a little light for their opponents, but were fleet, and in the first few minutes forced two corners, but did not convert. Then the Club attacked, and Sherry, centered beautifully, but the chance was not taken opportunity of. Simms very nearly scored for the soldiers with a good individual effort, the ball hitting the outside of the net. Just before the half time, the soldiers again attacked, and Swanborough found the net with a swiftness.

In the second half both sides attacked alternately. The Club missed several good chances by faulty shooting. The soldiers scored through Reelf in the course of a melee in front of the Club goal. The final whistle found the soldiers winners by two goals to nil.

"CARLISLE" 2ND XI, KOWLOON RES. 1.

This match which was played on the Navy ground at 2.30, was very evenly contested. The forwards on both side were inclined to be too hasty in front of goal. The sailors scored just before half time. The second moiety was half through before the Kowloonites equalized. There was no further score.

"CARLISLE" 1, KOWLOON 0.

The first string of the Kowloon F.C. tried conclusions with the "Carlisle" first team, and lost by the only goal of the match. Both sides turned out strong. Kowloon pressed at the opening whistle, and gave the soldiers a hot time, but
